

DIRIGIBLE EXPLODES ON TRIAL TRIP

GIANT AIRSHIP FALLS INTO RIVER AT HULL AS THOUSANDS WATCH

Only One Member of the American Crew Aboard is Saved—People Rush for Safety in Terror as the Ship Plunges Toward the Earth—Cause of Accident is Not Known

HULL, England, Aug. 24.—Seventeen officers and men of the United States navy and 27 officers and men of the British navy met death today in the collapse of the great dirigible ZR-2 over Hull.

Every American on board the ill-fated craft perished as far as could be ascertained at midnight tonight.

Only five men of the 49 making the trial trip in the dirigible prior to the vessel being turned over to the United States navy are known to have been saved.

The American officers who started the trip included Commander Louis H. Maxfield, Lieutenant-Commander Emory Coil, Lieutenant Henry W. Hoyt, Lieutenant Marcus H. Esterly, Lieutenant Commander Valentine N. Ries and Lieutenant Charles G. Little.

The American enlisted men who went up with the craft from Howden were C. I. Aller, Robert Coons, L. E. Crowl, J. T. Hanback, William Julius, M. Day, A. L. Loftin, A. I. Pettit, W. J. Steele, N. O. Walker and George Walsh.

The British losses include the famous air veteran Brig. General Maitland and all the other officers on board except Lieutenant Wann, commander of the ZR-2.

Starting from Howden Tuesday morning on a test flight to Fulham, the big aircraft had been aloft 34 hours at times in bad weather and was returning to the Fulham airfield at the time of the disaster which constitutes the most terrible of its kind in peace times.

The ZR-2, a sister ship of the famous R-34, the first dirigible to cross the Atlantic, was on her test trip prior to being accepted by the United States navy and taken across the Atlantic by an American crew especially trained for that purpose. She was 695 feet long and was built to carry a crew of thirty. Her speed was estimated at 70 miles an hour. The American navy was to pay $2,000,000 for the craft.

Plunges Into River

With the ZR-2 flying at about 1,000 feet over Hull, spectators saw it seemingly buckle amid-ship and plunge downward over the city and into the Humber river. One theory of the cause of the disaster is that while the ship rudders were being tested the giant took a sharp turn which caused her frame work to buckle and that the explosion of a gasoline tank completed the tragedy. The actual cause never may be known. A rumor had been afloat for some days that the ZR-2 was structurally weak, but this was denied by all in authority.

Tens of thousands of spectators saw several men climb outside the balloon and drop from the falling mass which was enveloped in smoke and others jump into the Humber as the crippled craft came over the water. As the dirigible struck, the wreckage above water was burning and there was slight chance for any of the men caught inside to escape.

Tugs immediately put out into the stream and brought ashore the five survivors, who were taken to hospitals. Among these were the American Quartermaster N. O. Walker, who died soon after reaching the hospital from hanging on a part of the fabric while the wreckage above water was burning and there was slight chance for any of the men caught inside to escape.

A rescue tug pulled another American out of the water. He was dead. Inside of his coat was the name of "Commander Maxfield." Early reports were to the effect that Lieutenant Esterly had been saved. This report proved to be unfounded.

Rescuers at Work

One member of the rescue party said that when they got alongside the burning airship the pilot of the tug asked for volunteers, to board one part that still was intact, jumping upon the wreckage, the rescuers ripped open part of the fabric while parts of the debris was pulled the task was a hazardous one, because one of the balloonets was still filled with gas and another explosion was feared.

Among the wreckage an American naval man was seen hanging by his coat to a girder in the frame of the airship. It was believed he was dead, owing to the peculiar position of the body, which was not recovered. Another rescuer said one was hanging onto the tail of the ship apparently uninjured while another (Continued on Page Four)

BELIEVED WILL SEEK FURTHER NEGOTIATIONS

Opinion Seems to Be That Dail Eireann Will Refuse Terms

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—Belief was expressed tonight that the Dail Eireann's answer to the proposals of Premier Lloyd George for peace in Ireland will be a refusal of the terms, but that the refusal will be followed with arguments seeking to induce Lloyd George to continue the negotiations.

This belief was considered to be substantiated by the fact that two under-secretaries from Dublin Castle, Messrs. Cope and McMahon, had a talk today with Robert C. Barton and Eamon J. Dugan, two prominent members of the Dail Eireann.

The conference lasted several hours and is thought to have concerned the continuation of the truce in the event of rejection of the government's terms.

BODIES OF SOLDIER DEAD ARE REMOVED

(By The Associated Press)

HOBOKEN, N. J., Aug. 24.—Five hundred bodies of American soldiers dead awaiting transportation to the homes of relatives were removed in safety today when fire of unknown origin swept over the army water front reservation destroying piers five and six, and an adjoining army storehouse and barracks.

Pier four, at which the giant liner Leviathan and the transport Wheaton were docked, was saved with difficulty. The flames licked the sides of the Leviathan, damaging a small section of the wood work on the bow and the forward mast, but a fire boat wedged its way between the liner and the burning pier and successfully fought off the flames as they spread to the huge craft.

COMBINE RESOURCES FOR RELIEF WORK

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The state department received tonight a report from Commissioner Dresel at Berlin on the peace treaty negotiations and said the point which had been raised would be attended to at once. Officials did not discuss the question saying that it was one of minor technical importance.

The delay in signing resulted from an unexpected technical point raised in connection with the formalities as arranged by E. L. Dresel, United States commissioner, at Dr. Friedrich Rosen, the German foreign minister yesterday. The ceremony of signing was to have occurred at noon today at the foreign office but it was postponed at the request of Mr. Dresel who asked the privilege of querying the Washington government on the mooted point.

At both the headquarters of the American commission and the German foreign office it was said that the technicality which involved the delay did not affect the contents or character of treaty as the governments reached a full accord on the official text some days ago.

PRESIDENT SIGNS CAPPER-TINCHER BILL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Capper-Tincher bill for regulating trading on grain exchanges and the bill which extends the period for doing assessment work on mining claims were signed today by President Harding.

The bill imposes a prohibitive tax upon "puts and calls" and other speculative transactions and upon all grain exchanges which do not become "contract markets." Exchanges and their individual members are required to report fully to the secretary of agriculture on all transactions they handle. Certain exemptions from regulations of the act are granted to cooperative associations.

TWO KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK

Grand Junction, Colo., Aug. 24.—Two persons were killed and more than fifty injured early today when Denver & Rio Grande western passenger train No. 1 westbound, plunged thru a bridge into a creek at Gale, near here. The dead are:

Douglas Armstrong, engineer, Grand Junction and William Redfern, 52, LaHarve, Calif., a passenger.

The wreck was due to a wash-out which had damaged the bridge.

LOAN OF $15,000,000 IS APPROVED

Washington, Aug. 24.—The interstate commerce commission approved today a loan of $15,000,000 for six months to the Great Northern Railway company to meet maturing indebtedness.

Officials Express Regret at Tragedy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Expressions of deep regret were voiced by government officials without exception today over the destruction of the giant airship ZR-2 with a heavy loss of American and British lives.

Pride in the acquisition of the new queen of the air and hopes of tremendous developments in military and commercial aeronautics had lent interest to the planned trans-Atlantic flight of the British-built air cruiser even beyond that which it normally would have aroused.

Latest advices to the navy department indicated that of the 17 members of the hand-picked American crew on board during the test, only one, Quartermaster Norman O. Walker, of Commerce, Texas, had survived. London dispatches put the American loss at 17, declaring "every American on board" was lost.

"It is a terrible thing," was the comment of Secretary Denby who forwarded to the British air ministry, a message expressing the sympathy of the navy department.

Far from being discouraged by the disaster, naval aviation officials immediately prepared to seek authority for construction of a new ship of the R-2 type in the United States.

"We will carry on; build and operate as many ZR-2's as may be authorized by congress," Admiral William Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics said, "so that these brave men may not have lost their lives in vain."

Other aviation officials while greatly distressed declared they had not lost faith in rigid airships.

Official dispatches to the department did not contain any information upon which experts could base an opinion as to the cause of the disaster.

The theory most generally expressed was that a structural weakness developed, similar to that reported officially by American observers under date of July 18, rupturing the envelope so as to bring the hot gases of the engine exhaust into contact with the hydrogen, or that a buckling of structural braces might have punctured the fuel containers, permitting the escaping gasoline to come into contact with the exhaust lines.

Another possible cause of the accident but considered remote, involved a buckling of structural braces over or near one of the six "power-eggs" which carried the 350 horse-power engines.

Altho the ZR-2 had not been accepted formally, under the contract with the British air ministry several payments had been made by the United States towards the cost of construction.

It was estimated at the navy department that these payments may total $1,500,000, or three-fourths of the total cost.

A clause in the purchase contract provided that in the event of loss of the ship during her flight to the United States, each party to the contract would assume half the cost of construction.

FARMER HAS BEEN MADE TO SUFFER IN DEPRESSION

Tells of Wages Farmer Receives for His Labor at Present Time

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The farmer has been made to suffer by the present depression to a greater extent than either the railroad security holder or the American laborer, Clyde M. Peed, chairman of the Western Grain committee testified today before the interstate commerce commission. His statement was in reply to a question asked by members of the commission early in the present hearings.

The grain farmer is receiving wages averaging from eight to twenty four cents an hour from which he must pay interest on his investment and taxes, said Mr. Reed, chairman of the Kansas railroad commission. He contrasted these with the pay of railroad laborers at present which is 135 per cent higher than in 1914.

Mr. Reed was the last witness for the grain men in their case before the commission in which they are endeavoring to get domestic reductions in freight rates.

BAREFOOT GIRL BURGLAR ARRESTED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—A barefooted burglar, 12 year old, caught beside a broken skylight on the roof of a drygoods store, confessed to police today that she and her fourteen year old brother who was arrested with her had perpetrated between 25 and 30 robberies during the last few months.

The prisoners are Hattie and Joseph Kasorski. When police arrived in response to a burglar alarm they found the boy preparing to lower his sister thru the skylight with a sixty foot rope, which he wore coiled about his waist. The girl had ten rings and the boy a fine gold watch part of the loot from a jewelry store robbery.

STANDARD OIL CUTS GAS PRICE

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A reduction of one cent a gallon on gasoline has been announced by the Standard Oil company of Indiana. The new prices will be 19 cents at service stations and 17 cents from tank wagons.

BIG CUT IN PRICE OF MILK

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A 33 1-3 cut in the price of milk effective September 1 was announced today by the milk producers' cooperative marketing company. This reduction is on milk sold to the dealers who have announced a substantial reduction will also be made in the retail price.

At present farmers are selling to dealers at $2.50 a hundred pounds, or 46 quarts. The new price will be $1.50. Farmers maintain that milk should be retailed at 10 cents a quart.

WILLIAM G. M'ADOO DISAPPROVES THE R. R. FUNDING BILL

Expresses Opinion in Letter Written to Senator Stanley

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Disapproval of the administration's railroad funding bill, recently reported to the senate interstate commerce committee was expressed by William G. M'Adoo, former director general of railroads, in a letter presented to the senate today by Senator Stanley, Democrat of Kentucky, who requested Mr. M'Adoo's views after the committee refused to hear him.

The government is not "morally and legally bound" as stated by President Harding to fund the $763,000,000 the railroads owe the government for additions and betterments, Mr. M'Adoo asserted. He declared: "The President must have been misled into making such a statement," adding that the law provides for the funding of "the remaining indebtedness" of the railroads, which he calculated at $263,000,000.

Payment on this balance, Mr. M'Adoo said may be deferred ten years by the railroads, provided satisfactory security is given and six per cent interest were paid.

"This is the kind of settlement the law now authorizes, and contemplates," Mr. M'Adoo said, adding that when the roads were returned to private control they owed the government $1,144,000,000 for additions and betterments of which $381,000,000 already has been extended for a long period. He urged that before any further advances were made the railroads be required to abandon the "inefficiency of labor claims, amounting, he estimated at about $500,000,000."

"I suppose you realize that in addition to the $1,144,000,000 the railroads owe the government for 'additions and betterments' they have received additional loans under the Esch-Cummins bill of about $300,000,000, making a total of $1,444,000,000," Mr. M'Adoo's letter said.

"Stripped of confusing non-essentials, what is now proposed is that the government shall wait ten years for $763,000,000 the railroads owe it for betterments and improvements and pay immediately $500,000,000 to the railroads on account of claims for alleged under-maintenance, etc., taking from the 150 or more railroads involved with their varying degrees of financial responsibility such securities as they may be able to provide; securities which, in many instances may not be adequate to protect the government against loss."

"This is not a question of 'legal and moral obligation,' on the part of the United States to lend the railroads $500,000,000 more for ten years. It is a question of policy and should be considered from that standpoint only. For the adoption of such a policy the administration must, of course, take the responsibility, but it should be candid about it."

REPORT ISSUED BY AIR MINISTRY ON WRECK OF ZR 2

Tells of Message from Ill Fated Ship Late in Afternoon

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The British air ministry tonight issued the following report concerning the wreck of the ZR-2:

"An admiralty representative at Humber reports that he visited the wreck of the ZR-2, which lies half a mile south of the corporation pier at Hull. The wreck appears to be in two portions. The whole vessel lies submerged in a north-westerly direction in the river in eight feet of water. The tail portion is showing lying in about four feet at high tide.

"Survivors escaped in a parachute and were picked up by tugs and small boats. Air force officers from Howden will patrol the river tonight in a motor launch to look out for bodies which may drift in the river.

"The airship left the Howden base yesterday for its fourth trial under command of Flight Lieutenant Wann. She reported her position at various times and proceeded to carry out different tests which had been arranged before hand. At 8 o'clock last night she signaled the following message:

"Will remain out tonight to complete necessary trials. Several already have been successfully accomplished. Will land tomorrow."

"The cruise continued thru the night and at 7 o'clock this morning the R-34, the name of the ZR-2 reported that she was flying in the neighborhood of Howden from which place she had started."

The report describes the day's operations including reports of satisfactory progress and a request that the Howden air base fly a kite balloon for a speed trial. The latter message was sent at 3:50 o'clock this afternoon.

"This," the air ministry statement continues, "was followed by a further message timed 4:30 o'clock this afternoon saying 'have carried out full speed trial. Landing at Howden at 6:30.'"

U. S. AND AUSTRIA SIGN PEACE TREATY

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Aug. 24.—The treaty between the United States and Austria was signed this afternoon, A. H. Frazier, American commissioner in Vienna acting for the Washington government. Such expedition and secrecy attended the preliminary negotiations and today's simple ceremony that the late newspapers today furnished the first news that the United States and Austria no longer were even technical enemies.

The terms are withheld. It is understood that the government does not desire public discussion of the treaty pending its ratification by the foreign affairs committee of parliament. The committee will meet Saturday to prepare the ratification of the treaty for consideration by parliament when it reassembles.

The ceremony of signature was devoid of formality.

COMMANDER WANN BROUGHT ASHORE

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Lieutenant Wann, commander of the ZR-2 was brought ashore at Hull about an hour after the disaster to the airship, says a dispatch to the London Times from Hull. He was badly cut about the head and bleeding profusely, but was conscious.

No sign of the wreck was visible late tonight. Two bodies landed were completely unrecognizable, owing to burns.

APPOINTED IN BOUNDARY DISPUTE

Washington, Aug. 24.—Chief Justice Taft notified the state department today that he had appointed John T. Mayford of Northwestern University and Ora Miner Leland of Cornell University as the two American arbiters provided for in the Porras-Arderon treaty for delimitation of the boundary between Panama and Costa Rica.

WILL BE GIVEN MILITARY HONORS

Lindsay, Ont., Aug. 24.—Sir Samuel Hughes, former minister of militia who died today after a long illness with pernicious anaemia, will be buried Friday with full military honors. A private service will be held in the home today morning and the body will be in state at the armory until the public service is held.

PEACE TREATY WITH GERMANY WAS NOT SIGNED WEDNESDAY

Treaty Was Laid Before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—Senator Hitchcock Gives His Approval of the Treaty—Attitude of Borah and Johnson is Puzzling

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The peace treaty between the United States and Germany was not signed today as had been intended.

The new treaty was laid before members of the senate foreign relations committee today and was received by them with some expressions of uncertainty but with a general show of approval.

The text of the treaty was not made public pending word of its signature in Berlin, but it became known that the document reaffirms in exact language the principal features of the peace resolution and gives force to various portions of the unratified treaty of Versailles.

Its submission is expected as soon as the senate reassembles a month hence after the congressional recess.

Among the first to express a favorable opinion from the Democratic side was Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, who, as senior Democratic member of the committee led the fight for ratification of the Versailles treaty.

Declaring he had received a "very favorable impression of the newly negotiated pact," Mr. Hitchcock said he saw no reason why it should not be ratified promptly. Similar views were expressed privately by other Democrats.

Attitude Enigmatical

Among the Republican members of the committee, the only enigma was presented by the attitude of Senators Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California. The latter is absent from Washington and Senator Borah had not a word to say until he had opportunity for further study of the treaty.

The treaty text first was laid before the Republican members at a conference with President Harding and Secretary Hughes at the white house and later was communicated to the full committee by Mr. Hughes at the capitol.

The treaty with Hungary was not given to the committee, but it is understood to follow closely the lines of that with Germany. Portions of the peace resolution relating to Austria-Hungary are said to be reaffirmed with certain sections of the treaty previously negotiated with Austria.

In the German treaty a large section is understood to be devoted to reservation of the rights and advantages gained by the United States under the armistice agreement and by acts of war, the exact words of the peace resolution being used in the definition of these accessions.

"Any indemnities, reparations or advantages," to which the nation is entitled as one of the principal allied and associated powers are said to be specifically reserved, and all seized property of the German government or of German subjects is left within American possession pending a final settlement of all claims against Germany.

The senate is expected to resume work upon reconvening but Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, obtained an agreement to have the house declare three day recesses from September 21 to October 31.

President Harding was at the capitol late tonight to sign a number of bills. The last to be put before him was the dye embargo extension, the last measure to be passed by the senate.

R. R. LABOR BOARD COSTING COUNTRY $2,000,000 DAILY

John M. Glenn Urges It Be Abolished in Chicago Address

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Declaring that the railroad labor board was costing the public two million dollars a day, John M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association today urged that it be abolished in an address to students of the school of commerce and administration of the University of Chicago.

"The railroads asked that the $700,000,000 wage grab of July 20, 1920, be wiped out," Mr. Glenn said. "The board dominated by the brotherhoods reluctantly reduced wages $400,000,000 a year, saving $300,000,000 dollars excess war wages, the railroads—and the public have no pay."

"The railroads asked abrogation of the working conditions which add another $300,000,000 a year to the payrolls, most of it squandered for work never performed. Board has not abolished these conditions."

It is the height of absurdity to let one set of people, (the railroad labor board) fix the cost of operation and another body, the interstate commerce commission set the cost at which the commodity is sold to the public," the speaker concluded.

MINORITY REPORT ON FUNDING BILL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A minority report on the administration's funding bill was submitted to the senate today by Senators LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, Stanley, Democrat, Kentucky, and Pittman, Democrat, Nevada.

It asserted the bill far from taking the government out of business, will inevitably involve it in the most speculative business in the world—the marketing of corporate securities, and said the government will "almost certainly lose hundreds of millions of dollars in the proposed transactions," as it will acquire the securities at from ten dollars to twenty dollars per one hundred dollars above their present market value.

ALL OVER IN MOMENT SAYS ONE SURVIVOR

London, Aug. 24.—Ernest Davies, one of the British members of the crew of the ZR-2 who was saved, in an interview with the London Times at Hull, said: "We had a terrific time. It was all over in a moment. The petrol tanks exploded and volumes of smoke and fire issued from the ship. Some of the men jumped, but I stuck to the ship and went down with the stern section which struck a sand bank from which I was rescued. Some of the poor fellows had no chance, especially in the control car."

EXTEND TIME FOR PAYMENT

Washington, Aug. 24.—A senate bill extending the time for payment of grazing fees for the use of national forests from September 1 until Dec. 1 next was passed today by the house.

"Stop a minute," cried Dr. Ram-

e was applied, the car was backed

another of equal value and a third for $10 was duly found.

of them appeared to make application at the same time. Then as they talked among themselves
they agreed to form an organization and to parade thru the streets of the city. The result was a marching body of men with now and then a placard
reading, "We Want Meals, Not Medals."The slogans were significant and point to the biggest problem that is now pressing for solution.
It affects ex-service men and others as well. What the people need is employment, and just how to get industry once more moving along in a normal way is the question with which the administration is struggling. With business on anything like a normal basis, the meals and the medals
will both take care of themselves.THE IRRITATING KITCHEN TAX SIGNATURE.The discussion of tax problems which has been occupying the attention of congress has brought forth many comments. In some quarters the congressmen and senators are credited with tackling a big question and doing the best they can with it. Naturally the minority party has taken the opportunity for criticism, and has not hesitated to question both the motives and the methods of the Republicans.But the unfair criticism is that fostered by ex-Congressman Kitchen, whose leadership had much to do with the bugling taxation system under which the country is struggling today. The Globe-Democrat points out this fact in an emphatic way. The editor of the paper writes in a most earnest way of the annoyance and irritation—to say nothing of the injustice—that results from the application of the laws for which Mr. Kitchen and his associates were responsible.Evidently the Globe-Democrat
editor has been in quite close contact with one or more of the government's "tax experts" and so knows something about the interpretations and regulations that are promulgated from time to time. Here is part of the Globe's statement:"A Treasury estimate is that no less than $1,500,000,000 is now owed to the government by reason of the liquidation in insufficient amount of taxes accruing
in former years under this Kitchen system. A hope that at least $3,000,000,000 in these delinquent back taxes may be collected in coming months is one of the budget assumptions on which the revision bill reduces the taxes of the current year.While some fraction undoubtedly is due to that cause, this $1-500,000,000 now asserted to be inarrears is for the most part not due to illegal conspiracies to evade just payment. No Treasury official makes such a claim or would dare to make it. On some features of the Kitchen code mere bureau appointments, thru interpretations and arbitrary regulations, have done almost as much in authorization almost as much legislation as Congress has done.
Tens of thousands of individuals and corporations did much more than to use their own best judgment and intimate knowledge of their business to fix in the light of the statutory text, the amount they should pay. They sought counsel on the subject from eminent attorneys, learned in the law. They did even more than that. Solicitous for the right thing, they obtained the aid of persons who had been employed in the tax service of the government itself—intelligent and honest men for the most part, who were justified in thinking that,
because of their special experience, they possessed an expert knowledge of federal tax problems."But after all such precautions —and under what other federal tax law were precautions so elaborate even made desirable—
great numbers of such taxpayers
still find themselves in disagreement with the government over their payments. Their books for long past months are overhauled, examined, re-examined and, perhaps, after all this, are re-examined again. Long after the balance sheet of a past year has been

TOMLINSON'SDESILVA WILL GO
WITH CARNIVALExpects to Join the Johnny Jones Company Soon—Will Show in Cuba This Winter.Charles DeSilva, local restaurant man, is soon to be with the world's largest carnival, directing the sale of cats and soft drinks.
Mr. DeSilva expects to dispose of his business here and build a large portable restaurant, which he will ship to Nashville, Tenn.
There he will join the Johnny Jones Carnival and expects to be in Cuba by this winter.Mr. DeSilva's restaurant was closed yesterday on constable's execution. It is understood that a claim held by a St. Louis automobile firm for $90 was presented for collection and upon Mr. DeSil-va's refusal to pay, an execution was issued. Since that time other claims have been filed and unless these are settled it is likely that the property will be sold at auction.It is understood that Mr. De-Silva said he intended to dispose of his holdings anyhow because of a change in business plans, and that he has no great objection to the legal action taken.Mr. DeSilva said yesterday that the portable tent restaurant will be of a size sufficient to serve 1-000 people and that he expects to have it built here before leaving for his new business connection.
It is Mr. DeSilva's intention to celebrate the completion big tent
by serving a lunch free of charge to all school children in Jacksonville under the age of 12 years.The Johnny Jones Carnival Co.
is at present showing at the state fair in Springfield. The company is of such size that has never shown in cities of less than 50-000 population.It's great "To Please One

PICNIC AT BLACK FARMMembers of the Rotary club are anticipating with great pleasure
the picnic tomorrow at the Cass country farm of Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Black. The Rotarians are expecting to leave Jacksonville in time to reach the farm at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At 5 o'clock they will listen to an informal talk by Dr. Collins, of Peoria, and at 6 o'clock supper will be served.
Dr. and Mrs. Black are furnishing ice cream and coffee for all of the company, and Rotarians and their families are expected to take along the other necessary provisions for the picnic supper.
Dr. Collins was largely instrumental in establishing the Jacksonville Rotary club, as he was sent here for that purpose by the Peoria club.It's great "To Please One

MR. LANGDON NOT A CANDIDATE FOR BOARDThomas Langdon of Murray-ville precinct yesterday notified County Clerk Riggs of his wish to withdraw his petition for member of the county board. Mr.
Langdon realizes that this action is not necessary, since no primary election is to be held this year under the ruling made by the attorney general, but decided that his action would let members of his party understand that he had no intention of being a candidate
before the county convention.

HELD AT MANCHESTERRemains of Former Resident Laid
to Rest Wednesday Afternoon—
Other Manchester News NotesManchester, Aug. 24.—Funeral services for the late George Lemon were held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Baptist church.
The auditorium, Sunday school room and church yard were filled with relatives and friends of the deceased, who until a year ago was a resident of this community. The services were of a very impressive character and were in charge of Rev. Fred Peak.Music for the occasion was furnished by a quartet including Miss Louise Pearce, Mrs. J. H. Langdon, M. W. Story and E. L. Maine, with Mrs. Ethel Housley at the piano.
The floral tributes were many and beautiful and they were cared for by Mrs. Edward Walker, Mrs.
Calvin Simmons, Mrs. Stella Mc-Pherson, Mrs. Frank Piper, Mrs.
William Lawson and Mrs. George Hayes, Misses Ollie Walker and Cecil Standifer.The pall bearers were Carl
Brown, Claude Martin, Henry
Hudson, Mayo McPherson, George Hayes and Albert Copley.Mr. and Mrs. John Akers and family will leave Thursday for their new home in Murrayville.
The Akers family has lived in this community for the past eighteen years and it is a cause of keen regret on the part of many that the family home is to be removed to another locality. Members of the family have been active in church and lodge circles and their going will mean a distinct loss in many quarters.Tuesday night members of the True Blue class of the M. E. Sunday school gave a farewell party in honor of Ralph and Edward Akers, who are soon to remove to Murrayville. The party was given at the home of Miss May Rob-pleasantly spent with games and music and refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served.A number of the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John Akers gave a farewell party in their honor Wednesday evening, the company numbering more than fifty. Watermelon was served during the

a pleasant social manner.AUTO IS STRUCK
BY STREET CARCar Driven by Charles Johnson Damaged When It Is Struck by Street Car in Mound Avenue—
Occupants Not Injured.An automobile owned and driven by Charles Johnson, 225 West Chambers street, suffered considerable damage when it was struck by a street car in Mound avenue
about 9 o'clock Wednesday night.
In the car with Mr. Johnson at the time were his wife and daughter, Miss Madge Johnson and Mr.
and Mrs. A. J. Haney. Fortunately none of them were injured.
The automobile had the rear right wheel broken and the running board damaged.According to those who saw the accident, Mr. Johnson was attempting to cross the track in front of the street car near the entrance to Maple Crest. He was driving east and the street car was traveling to the western terminus.Just as Mr. Johnson got in the center of the track he killed his engine. The car was right upon the automobile but fortunately was not traveling at high speed.
It struck the automobile broad-side and it was thrown against the curbing of the pavement on the south side of the avenue.
Fortunately the car did not overturn which undoubtedly saved the occupants from perhaps serious injury.LADIES'

SIMPLE APPLICATION
THAT DISSOLVES
BLACKHEADS

No more squeezing and pinching
to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just rub about two ounces of calomel powder from your drugstore—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—
wash the parts and every blackhead
will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Any drugstore will sell you the calomel powder and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.

was found floating in the water. Both were saved.

While the rescuers were at work the balloon began to turn over and the rescue party had to return to the tug.

When first seen from Hull, the ZR-2 was approaching the city coming from a southeasterly direction over the Humber river toward Hull. When sailing on an even keel above the city, according to some of the eye witnesses a huge cloud of dense smoke burst from the tail of the aircraft. It was thought the ZR-2 was sending out a smoke screen as an exhibition, but, to the horror of thousands of spectators it was seen that she had broken in two and was taking a tremendous nose dive which apparently would bring her down into the thronged streets.

Then there came a loud explosion and a great crash followed by another explosion accompanied by the breaking of glass in the windows on land. The whole being reminiscent of war times, when German airships shook Hull and explosions bombed the whole town. The confusion was so great that it took several minutes before the ZR-2 reached the water nearly a mile apart. General public opinion is that the commander accomplished a remarkable feat of bravery in diverting the descent of the vessel so that it fell into the water instead of in the crowded streets.

It was a moment of terror for the populace when the disaster occurred. People in the streets rushed madly to cover, fearing that the massive wreck would fall upon them. The terror gave way to horror as the wreck plunged into the middle of the river near the Corporation pier.

During the fall of the airship three of the crew were observed making a thrilling parachute descent. They came down into the river, where they were rescued by small boats. All who jumped from the falling craft lost their lives. They had no chance for escape, for the water was covered with burning gasoline and the heat from the burning wreckage was so intense that even the rescuers experienced the greatest difficulty in approaching for some time. Barges, trawlers and small boats thronged around the debris willing to give any possible assistance.

Immediately after the disaster telephone messages came from distances up to fifty miles reporting that the people had felt an earthquake shock.

Among those on board the airship were the designer of the ZR-2, Superintendent Warren of the works where she was built, and Flight Officers Wicks and Matheson.

ZR-2 closely resembled her sister ship the R-34 which sailed across the Atlantic in July, 1919, altho she was 41 feet longer and seven feet greater in diameter than the R-34. Her gasoline capacity also was greater than that of her sister ship and she had a cruising radius of 6,000 miles. In contrast with 4,800 miles credited to R-34.

It had been estimated that the ZR-2 would be able to cross the Atlantic in from three to four days, whereas the R-34 had occupied nearly five days in her voyage.

A telephone system connected up the ZR-2 so that Commander Maxfield, standing at his wheel in the trip across the Atlantic could have every part of the aircraft under his direct and immediate control.

Brig. General Maitland who met death in the disaster today was one of the officers who made the trans-Atlantic voyage in the R-34.

He has been in charge in trials of the ZR-2.

The crew of the ZR-2 selected to bring her across the Atlantic to the United States included 14 officers, 10 riggers, 16 mechanics and 2 radio men.

Only a few of those were aboard when the giant aircraft plunged into the waters of the Humber today.

Officers Shocked By News
Lake Hurst, N. J., Aug. 24.—All hands at the naval air station here, where 450 officers and men had been assembled to receive the giant ZR-2 on her expected arrival from England, were on the field today practicing means of landing the huge dirigible when the news of her destruction by explosion over Hull arrived from The Associated Press.

Officers and men were shocked so that they could utter few comments.

The largest hangar in the world was built here to receive the ZR-2 and the personnel was ready to land the dirigible whenever it should arrive. Every activity at the station for months past was for the ultimate purpose of receiving the airship and caring for it.

ESTIMATED AT $12,000,000 ARE INVOLVED

Federal Officers Believe That Much in Swindler's Activities

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Federal investigators delving into the affairs of Charles W. French, alleged head of a group of swindlers operating on a national scale, today estimated that twelve million dollars might be involved in the swindler's activities. Their manipulations, it is declared, are the most audacious ever uncovered by federal agents and include banking schemes, bond manipulations, stock transactions and various business enterprises.

Investigators today were confronted with a bewildering mass of late confessions, new evidence victims, and more startling revelations. Seventeen companies and three banks are thought to have been involved in the band's manipulations. These include railroads, toll roads, real estate, house wrecking, electrical construction, automobiles, accessories, ties, metal furniture, meat packing and marketing, printing and lithographing, cement, lumber and plumbing.

Three alleged confessions bearing the affairs are in the possession of federal authorities today. Federal agents have also recovered a million and a half dollars worth of doubtful notes, have made eight arrests, and assert today that more will follow, and have heard the complaints of a number of alleged victims.

Alva Harshman for the past six years French's secretary, confessed yesterday to John V. Clinin, assistant district attorney, regarding the band's activities. He was released on $5,000 bonds and is expected to be a star witness for the government. Another alleged statement of the band's activities came from Rudolph Kahn, head of the American Rubber Co., a Chicago concern, while from others came statements which were not made public by the federal agents.

French arrested some ago in connection with the activities of John W. Worthington, alleged head of a group engaged in disposing of securities obtained in mail robberies, evidently considered himself free from suspicion regarding his alleged swindling operations.

A letter which he had written to J. B. Leeds, said to be his Cleveland agent, was seized when he was arrested. It is full of his designs on a Milwaukee bank, calls Mr. Clinin "honest but foolish" and asserted that most of the federal operatives could be bought for ten dollars.

French is held here under $25,000 bonds. Besides French and Worthington, both of whom are under arrest, Harshman in his confession implicated a number of others.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

THE McCONNELL FAMILY

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

John Randolph McConnell, for many years leading lawyer of northern California, was the youngest son of John McConnell, Sr., mentioned in Wednesday article. He was born in Bourbon County, Kentucky, May 11, 1826. In 1841, after his mother's death, he went from Jacksonville back to Kentucky and lived with his sister, Mrs. William Moore until 1846. He attended respectively several institutions of learning, both in Illinois and Kentucky, but his education was derived chiefly from the private tutelage of "Professor Vaughn" who, at that period stood at the head of the mathematical of the west. Under this tutor he made rapid strides in mathematics and metaphysical lore. It was said that, up to his death nothing afforded him more pleasure than a dash into the mysteries of "curvilinear and conic sections." In the year 1844, abandoning his original design of a military education at West Point, he commenced the study of law, under the tuition of John Martin, esq., at that time a leading member of the Bourbon County bar. Afterward he attended the Transylvania university where he gained much assistance. Here his studies were directed by such masters of the profession as Judge Wooley, Robertson, Thomas Marshall. * * * In 1846, removing again to Illinois, he began the practice of law at the early age of 21. Two years later we find him again moving to Natchez, Miss. Quoting from "Representative Men of the Pacific," edited by O. T. S. Feb.

1870, we note the following: "It was during his residence in Mississippi that young McConnell began laying in that fund of knowledge on certain branches of the law which afterward contributed so largely to help his adopted state. It was here we find him applying himself to the study of 'Justinian's Institutes' and that splendid body of civil law which has come down to us from the age of Tribonian. Before he had time to avail himself of the knowledge thus acquired, the news of the discovery of gold in California reached him, and early in 1849, with his friend Colonel E. J. Saunders (afterward well known in Nicaragua and during the Confederate war) he started across the plains to California. He arrived here in October, 1849, and settled as a miner in the vicinity of Placerville. It was soon newsed about that he was a lawyer and he was soon engaged warmly in the Alameda courts in the vicinity. There was not a single law book in the whole district, the discussions and the decisions equally, must have been rather crude and ill-digested; but, we have reason to believe that the germ of the entire mining jurisprudence of California sprang from those early deliberations. Finally induced to abandon mining by the growing wants of the community for legal knowledge, as well as the reputation he had already acquired as a jurist, he took up his residence in 1851 at Nevada City and devoted himself thenceforth to the practice of his profession. We have characterized McConnell as the leading lawyer of northern California. To those who have met him oftenest at the bar and known him best in the higher walks of the profession, we need adduce no other proof than such encounters have furnished. The records of the Supreme Court of California, for many years as presented in the reports, afford ample testimony upon this point. It is not going too far to assert, that the briefs and arguments of John R. McConnell before that tribunal, have done more toward building up the justly famous mining laws of the state than the labors of any other counselor upon this coast. To an inexhaustible fund of learning he added indomitable industry, and a perception quick, sure, and intuitive; methodical almost to formality he drilled his arguments into forms of logical sequence, that in most cases amounted to mathematical demonstration. But his memory, perhaps, the most remarkable trait of a remarkable mind. It seems to be absolutely infallible. Piled up in the reservoirs of his capacious intellect, he calls forth argosies of wealth at a moment's notice, and launches them upon the tide of learning with an abandonment that produces amazement." We quote the following extracts, in part, from the Resolutions adopted, and speeches made at the meeting of the "Los Angeles Bar" at the time of my uncle's death, as published in the Los Angeles Evening Express, under the heading "Honors to General McConnell."

"From Judge King's oration we quote as follows: * * * 'I had from a friend of his this information: That almost at once on his entering the Springfield (Illinois) bar where he went after leaving the Transylvania University, he made the acquaintance of and took rank with such men as Abraham Lincoln, Stephen A. Douglas, Gen. Shields, James A. McDougall, who were then prominent members of the Springfield bar. These friendships remained with him up to his death; indeed, his affection for Stephen A. Douglas was such that in the Presidential canvass it is said he supported Douglas in preference to his fellow statesman, Breckinridge, purely out of the affection he bore the great Illinois statesman. Soon after coming to California, in 1851, we find him settled in Nevada City, then as the most important mining county in the state, where he soon became District Attorney. We need not inquire how he discharged his duty, for such was his ability that, whatever was his professional, or other duty, was well and ably discharged under all circumstances. There has been no man connected with the profession of law on the Pacific Coast who has left more distinctly his mark upon its jurisprudence than our deceased brother. It has been said by others—and I believe it is true, that it was his learning and his research that has given to California her splendid system of mining jurisprudence that, more than any other man, he has stamped his great genius upon our admirable system of mining government. Leaving California for a short time we find him in Nevada. There he was defeated for 'Supreme Judge' of the state of Nevada. Before that, in 1853 he was elected 'Attorney General' of California, taking office in 1854. Later, in 1861, he was defeated for Governor of California on the Breckinridge ticket when Leland Stanford was elected. Since then he has devoted himself entirely to his profession. We find such men as Senator William M. Stewart of Nevada, the great lawyer and state sman, the creation, almost, so far as intellect and training are concerned of our deceased brother. Sen. Stewart studied law with Gen. McConnell and afterward entered into partnership with him. His connection with politics in this state has been so prominent that it is a part of our history. 'As a lawyer he stood even-shouldered with those gentlemen of the bar that we are all proud to honor and by his death there is another link severed of that 'grand old few' who yet remain of the pioneer lawyers who gave shape to our constitution and the laws of this state * * * I was associated with him as his partner

In the practice of law here in Los Angeles. While members of the bar knew him as a lawyer I knew him intimately as a man; and I speak advisedly when I say that he was remarkable in his learning and his ability to learn. Few men had such accurate information upon such a variety of subjects as he.

None greater ability to work mentally. If wearied with law he would rest in solving some of the most difficult problems in higher mathematics; he would turn from that to the most abstruse questions of metaphysics. He read books as he ate food—to digest and assimilate them, and he became the most learned man that I have ever met."

From "The San Francisco Examiner." Death of the Hon. John R. McConnell: (I quote only in part.) "He removed to Los Angeles years ago and from the latter county was elected to the legislature in 1876. He was a profound lawyer and a writer of great force. At one time he contributed to the 'Examiner' a series of papers on 'The Structure of Federal and State Governments' and upon germane political subjects with mastery ability. He was a gentleman of lofty integrity, superior intellectual powers, and acknowledged worth. His death will be mourned by all who know him."

From The Pacific Coast Law Journal, (quoting in part) "The California Bar has sustained a grievous loss in the death of one of its oldest, brightest and most estimable members, the late Gen. John R. McConnell. Since the pioneer days of California he has been widely known throughout the state; as a lawyer he ranked among the foremost on the coast. He was a profound student; a close reasoner; an able debator; and a courteous gentleman. To his rare gifts were added a refined and cultivated taste, and a genial bearing possessed by few. His literary attainments and personal magnetism made him the delight of all circles in which he moved. General McConnell seemed to have mastered all branches of human learning, and was never more at home than when amidst the confraternity of social friends, on which occasions the emanations from his mind seemed inexhaustible and flowed as naturally as do streams into the ocean. In life he passed through the multitude as a man who neither disdained the wants of the people, nor yet was in any way tickled with their vanity. He was at the time of his death fifty-three years of age. 'Vita sine literis mors est.' There are also long descriptive incidents of his life as recorded in the history by William H. Rhodes, Resolutions from the Res. Masonic Lodge No. 13, Nevada City, of which he was a high degree Mason, and numerous newspaper notices throughout the state to record which, would add too much to this already lengthened account. One fact, however, in which I do not find recorded in any of these biographies is, that he spent some time in the office of Judge Epler in Jacksonville in his early years as a young man."

I have heard my mother speak of it and inferred from what she said that he was practicing law from that office, however he may have been a student of Judge Epler's. In the State house at Sacramento are preserved many of his political speeches, but of his writings for newspapers, periodicals, etc. few remain as it was said he cared not enough for what he wrote to preserve them * * *

Thus do we all fade slowly out. A few years hence and the "old town"—where we walked and talked and often stumbled over its old brick walks, under the shadows of its grand old trees, will know us no more. We will have gone down through the gloaming and into the twilight of the sun set, and the long-armed rays as if loath to depart. And to those who achieved, and those who failed; those who sorrowed, and those who were glad; all will have found one size in their six feet of earth. A hundred years hence the new and strange generation of that period will look back and wonder perhaps, about the old fashioned folk who once lived there. Then as now the birds will come back each spring to nest, the gardens spaded and sown; flowers bloom, the bees hunt the honey cup. Funny anecdotes told; strange tradition of a long gone people. But in the very civilization which is their inheritance the indelible pencil of destiny will have written of the starters: "The hewers of wood and drawers of water." Those who went before. Those stalwart giants who cut the trees and built the cabins and wrought out of seeming impossibility a future civilization for those who came later, while afar in some fairer, happier zone, even now, they may look back in sweet memory of the "old town." Who knows?

A PECULIAR GROWTH
Mrs. Benjamin Andrews, 723 West Lafayette avenue, has left at the Journal office a peculiar growth which she calls a Bermuda pear, tho it has no likeness to a pear whatever. It is a species of flower of peculiar construction and form and grows on a vine. It is of no known use but is quite a curiosity.

Tired Out?

Do you know that languidness, that "awful tired feeling," heaviness, lame or weak back, sore muscles, stiff or swollen joints, rheumatic pains, lumbago, in the great majority of cases, indicate kidney trouble?

Foley Kidney Pills
act promptly and effectively to restore weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to a healthy condition.

Mrs. Robert Blair, 421 S. 2nd Street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered two years with kidney and bladder trouble frequently getting backache. Mornings I would arise feeling very tired and having headaches, and see floating specks before my eyes. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and made up my mind to try them. After taking them a few weeks I found my kidneys were restored to healthy, normal action. I am also free of those tired spells and headaches and my vision is no longer blurred. My recovery is entirely due to Foley Kidney Pills, which I gladly recommend."

BRIEF GETS NEW HOME

FOUR VISITORS SURVIVE PLAY

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 24.—Four visiting and four Chicago players survived the test of the second round in the play of the Western Women's Golf tournament at the Westmoreland Club today. The visiting players are Miss Marian Burns of Kan.

Miss Jeanette Kinney of Cleveland, Mrs. Dave Galt of Memphis and Frances Hadfield of Milwaukee.

The local players, Mrs. C. O. Gillett, Mrs. J. W. Douglas, Mrs. Melvin Jones and Miss Vera Gardiner.

Vacation in the West - where romance lingers
the land of the painted mountains where the Red Men warred and hunted

Out beyond the world of hard-drums lies the West! An enchanted land to which still clings the spirit of the old days of romance and adventure. A place enwrapped by Nature in a purple glamour.

Colorado! Centuries ago the Spaniards found it, named it "The Land that Red" and remembered it forever after. Vacation this year in this wonder playground of the Nation.

All in Colorado

In Rocky Mountain National Park, a symphony of laughing water-falls, of woods and sun-lit mountain tops and gorgeous wild-flowers—you'll find a haven of peaceful beauty. Or you can hike, horseback ride, climb, golf, fish in this wild immensity of beautiful out-of-doors.

Visit the Denver region—Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, Manitou, Colorado Glacier, Grand Lake and numerous retreats in "The Land Among the Clouds." See the homes of the ancient cliff-dwellers in Mesa Verde.

Through Storied Lands

"Hop" over the mountains into Utah, "The Promised Land." Take a dip in Great Salt Lake, see the exquisite canyons in Zion National Park.

Tour Yellowstone Park, the Wonder-Geyserland of America—in picturesque Gardiner Gateway, out over spectacular Cody Road, or vice versa.

Visit Glacier Park—terrific in its grandeur, thrilling in its Alpine beauty.

Know the charm of the Pacific Northwest. See Mount Rainier and Crater Lake. Come back through glorious California and the inspiring Yosemite.

All the wonderful West is calling you this vacation-time. Wherever you wish to go, Burlington service will take you. Go one way and return by an entirely different route—at no added cost.

Major Dooley studying effects of cartridge priming

"It is the priming that kills a rifle's accuracy."

"Tests of every kind have proved that the recently developed priming used in the famous N.R.A. .22s and all other US Rim-Fire Cartridges eliminates excessive pitting and erosion."

"Of course the rifle must be regularly cleaned as usual."

Be good to your rifle. Shoot US Rim-Fire Cartridges regularly. Your scores will improve and your rifle will stay in good condition.

Daily Market Report

FIRMER PRICES

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Firm prices marked today's trading on the board of trade. Wheat and corn led on the influence of buying of cash grain for export and pulled oats along with them. Wheat closed unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, corn was up 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ and oats 1/2 to 3/4. Provisions also were firmer and lard gained 20 to 25 points and hogs 12 1/2 to 20¢ on the day.

The early trade in wheat showed a switch in local sentiment toward the buying side and while the first advances brought out some resting selling orders, pressure was not pronounced as compared with previous days. Continuation of export business coupled with words that millers were after red winter wheat and finding it hard to get, brought additional recruits to the longs. Country offerings also fell off.

Just before the close profit-taking and a report that the national house and senate were deadlocked over the bill to lend a billion dollars to finance farm exports, caused a setback to near the opening figures.

Trading opened in the May delivery today. It ruled three to four cents over December, the difference representing ordinary carrying charges.

Further sales of a half million bushels at the seaboard strengthened corn. Trade in the big grain was marked by much chafing from September to December, the difference worked into a position slightly above the more deferred delivery.

Oats followed corn and averaged higher throughout. Provisions rose on packers' of lard and ribs and a higher market for hogs.

MANY LOW RECORDS

ON STOCK MARKET

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Reactionary tendencies were uppermost in the stock market today after an early period of firmness among the leaders of the oil, motors and kindred groups. Some thirty odd issues, comprising for the most part dormant stocks, registered additional recessions that price cutting in the steel trade has reached an acute stage and intimations that some of the better known Mexican oil properties had encountered serious technical obstacles.

Sales amounted to 600,000 shares.

Money conditions remained on an even keel, call loans on the exchange ruling at 5 1/2 per cent while a five per cent rate obtained outside.

NEW OPPORTUNITIES AT HIGH SCHOOL

Vocational Courses Are Explained by Supt. Perrin — Possible Now Because of New Building.

The Jacksonville High school offers courses in vocational training—(1) Commercial; (2) Agriculture; (3) Home Economics; (4) Manual and Industrial Training; (5) College entrance for professions. Under the last heading are the preclassical, pre-science and pre-teaching curricula. An explanation of the course possibilities has been given by Supt. Perrin.

All of these vocational courses have been evolving for several years anticipatory to the time when the new building would afford ample room for adequate expansion and completion.

The four year commercial course allows for both a general education and specialization in type-writing and stenography or book-keeping. Some students take the combined course. The whole east wing in the third story is given over to commercial instruction.

The agriculture course is now a federal and state approved division. Two years of work will be given this year and the third and fourth added as classes develop. The first year's work consists of the study of crops and soils. The specific aim of the work in farm crops is to enable the boy to obtain such a knowledge of the characteristics, propagation, culture, improvement, storage, marketing, and use of the principal local field crops as will prepare him for success in field crop farming. The specific aim of the work in soils is to enable the boy to obtain such a knowledge of the most important principles of the formation, properties, and management of soils, applicable primarily to his own vicinity, as will prepare him for the successful production of maximum crops and the maintenance of soil fertility.

The second year's work consists of the study of farm animals. The specific aim of the work in Animal Husbandry is to enable the boy to obtain such a knowledge of the characteristics, breeding, feeding, care and management, and marketing of the domestic animals commonly raised for profit in this region as will prepare him for success in livestock farming.

A commodious agriculture laboratory will make a fine opportunity for this work to be given under the most favorable conditions.

This course will appeal to boys who live on the farm, those who need farm knowledge for economic commercial reasons. The federal government thru the state, provides for partial support of this department and it offers unusual opportunities to this community.

The Home Economics course is already well developed and is a most popular one.

In the first year, the principles of cooking are given. A fine laboratory provides accommodations that are first class.

The second year offers the principles of sewing and clothing. This has been a popular course for several years. The laboratory consists of a sewing room, a pressing booth, a fitting booth, and a fabric demonstration laboratory.

The third year offers an advanced course in cooking, rationing, managing and home economics. The demand for this work is always greater than can be accommodated. A two room demonstration housekeeping suite adds an opportunity for practice work in room makeup and care.

The fourth year offers advanced sewing, costume designing, fabric work, management and elementary millinery. This work has long been popular with high school students. Many dresses, aprons, underwear and hats and caps are the product of this course.

This four year course is a most practical one allowing one-fourth of the student's time to be given to home economics and three-fourths to other regular subjects. This is a most practical as well as cultural course for home keeping either actively or from a management point and is considered to be one of the most scientific and artistic subjects in a modern curriculum for girls.

A four year manual training and industrial course is provided. It is intensely practical and offers courses in woodworking, drafting, and some elementary machine, electric and concrete work. One course runs into farm mechanics and gives a thorough general course for farm implement adjustments, etc. A wonderful set of laboratories are set apart for this work and the department will be full to the limit.

The college entrance courses for the professions include a full four year of the classics and sciences. A pre-teacher course is outlined for those who expect to study for the teaching profession in colleges and normal schools.

In addition a specially arranged four years course may be approved by the Superintendent and Principal making provisions for almost any type of preparation needed to enter any higher course.

The Jacksonville High school is a fully accredited high school, a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and maintains the standards set by this association. Graduates may enter colleges by submitting credits rather than thru formal examinations.

Some 550 students are enrolled and an enrollment of 600 or more is expected by the opening Sept. 6th.

MATRIMONIAL

Davison-Deaton

At a pretty home wedding which took place last night, Miss Helen Lucille Deaton of Jacksonville became the bride of Mr. Bert Davison of Ashland. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents five miles north-east of this city, and was witnessed by a limited number of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Wetzel of Jacksonville. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Virginia McMillan of Farmingdale and Edward Deaton, brother of the bride. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Newton Wilson played "To A Wild Rose." The wedding march from Lohengrin was played as the bridal couple took their places and later when congratulations were being received.

The bride wore a dress of white voile and carried a bride's bouquet of roses. Following the ceremony a delicious supper was served.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deaton and is well and favorably known throughout the community. She is a member of Centenary M. E. church and has attended the Jacksonville high school. Her charming personality has won for her many friends.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Davison of Ashland. He is a young man of fine character and strict integrity and in every way worthy of the bride he has won. Mr. Davison enlisted at the outbreak of the war in the 140th Infantry, 35th Division and was in the service overseas for eighteen months. He was in the battle of the Argonne and also the battle of Chateau Thierry.

The couple plans to take a brief wedding trip and will soon be at home to their large number of friends at Prentice, Ill., where the groom is employed.

EX-SERVICE MEN PARADE IN ST. LOUIS

Terrance Brennan, who recently spent several days in St. Louis tells of an unusual occurrence there. One of the Woolworth buildings in St. Louis advertised for a janitor. The next day two hundred and fifty eight applicants appeared for the job and all but two or three were ex-service men in uniform.

One of the applicants was finally chosen and the rest banded together and rigged up banners and slogans and had a parade. The parade marched down the main streets in St. Louis and the banners flaunted slogans such as "We don't want bonuses, we want work and lots of it." This is a striking example of the spirit of the exservice man and it is one prevalent thruout the entire nation.
